Big Crowds on Circus Day.

In spite of the mixed weather Saturday the circus drew large audiences for the parade, the matinee and evening performances. Crowds thronged the city from the suburban towns until late evening and the quality that Frank A. Robbins' circus exhibited received many compliments. For a one-ring show it was a bar-up attraction and the three bands made the air ring with lively melodies.

Church-Address by Rev. E. W. Pot

The soldiers' Memorial service was held at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The resident members of Sedgwick post and several of the ladies of the D. A. R., Sons of Veterans and Spanish War Veterans attended. Rev. E. W. Petter conducted the devotional exercises, after which the devotional exercises, after which Miss Grace Bickness sang The Vacant Chair, Dr. W. H. Gane offered prayer, after which the choir sang Your Comrade and Mine. Mr. Potter read the scripture from Eph. 6-10. Preceding the sermon George H. Prior sang Tenting Tonight.

Rev. E. W. Potter took his text from Ex. 12, 2-6. "What mean ye by this service?" This had reference to the Passover, which was an established service as Memorial day is. The latter is not to establish sectional prejudice or glorification of war. It begets love of peace and dread of war. It is an expression of grateful desire to gets love of peace and dread of war. It is an expression of grateful desire to honor those who fought to save the nation. We honor them for their courage; contempt of danger is not always heroism. The soldier's courage was in the noblest cause, and they held a conviction of the righeousness of the cause, and we honor them for their devotion.

Memorial day reminds us of the cost of the heritage that we enjoy. Four of the heritage that we enjoy. Four hundred thousand lives were given to save the union; 275,000 were wounded and many of these disabled for life. The soldiers were young men.

Debt Can Never Be Paid. He quoted this—that the only debt we can never pay is the debt we owe to union soldiers. As we decorate the graves we are reminded that we have a great united nation. We are grateful to our national heroes for the great blessings they have brought to the nation. Memorial day falls of its pur-pose if we do not perpetuate what the soldiers won. soldiers won.

Mrs. H. F. Cheney had beautifully decorated the platform with flags, swamp apple blossoms, iris, white lilacs, ferns and potted plants.

Children of the Loyal Temperance Legion attended in a body and marched into the church carrying their banners and singing temperance hymns.

Rev. Louis M. Flocken, paster of the Methodist Episcopal church, delivered the address. An audience that taxed the capacity of the church was present and thoroughly enjoyed the service that was surely one of the most interesting in the annals of the Woman's Christian Temperance union.

Third Postponement of League Games Because of Bad Weather.

The unspeakable weather that has made a mess of the month of May and knocked baseball plans awry again cut in for a slap at the sport Saturday and then served in a similar capacity for Cogswell, James Walker, Miss Mary

The Norwich-Taftville team was on hand to do battle with the local team and were just ready to go up to the field when the rainmaker got busy and ordered up a smart shower. At 4 o'clock the players went up to the grounds, but there was no chance and the game was called off. Ten minutes later the weather brightened. It rained just long enough to cause a posponement. For a streak of bad weather luck the present one has been the limit. Of the six games scheduled since the opening of the season, three have been postponed.

A string of double headers must of necessity be played during the second round of the piaying schedule and what the fans are missing now will be amply compensated for—if it doesn't rain!

Burleson and James Gallivan; the school children, led by Principal Jackman, will remember their former principal, E. M. Swift, each placing a bourget out his grave.

From there they will go to St. Mary's cemetery; here the cadets will decorate the graves of James Barnett and Edward Dewire. The line will return to Finn's opera house, where there will be speeches by Rev. W. H. Gane, Rev. E. W. Potter, Rev. N. B. Cook and Rev. J. W. Payne, and exercises by the school children, led by Principal Jackman, will remember their former principal, E. M. Swift, each placing a bourget out his grave.

Putnam, is a Professional. Manager J. B. Benoit of the Norwich-Taftville team filed a protest with the secretary of the Eastern Connecticut league Saturday against the playing by Putnam of George Rivard, who was signed by Manager Bonin last week to do the pitching for the local team. Manager Benoit protests Rivard on the ground that he is a professional who has played with New England teams and as a player is not eligible to play in this league. The rules of the league call in such cases for reference of the matter to the directors, a majority of whom can decide for or against allowing a team to play the man under protest.
